

Artist Statement

As a filmmaker from Richmond, VA, I am drawn to notable moments in history and the exploration of lineage. I explore time, history, and our relationships with them through the subjective lens of Black Characters at the intersection of visual storytelling, design thinking, and cultural specificity. I am primarily interested in telling stories from the unheralded, nuanced historical moments that help humanize Black Life.

Filmmaking has been my gateway to satiating my insatiable thirst for knowledge and nurturing my creativity. Through this, I am able to bring my artistry to life in a way that is both tangible and relatable. It is not just a privilege, but a joy for me to share my vision with you.
